Strasbourg, 23/9/81

Dear Prime Minister,

My colleagues in the European Parliament and I would take great pleasure in welcoming you to one of the forthcoming part-sessions of our Assembly.

We are convinced that, by addressing the European Parliament elected by direct universal suffrage by the peoples of the Community, to inform it of the results of the next European Council, you would greatly enhance the prestige of the Community institutions and make a substantial contribution to the debate on the future of European unification.

The enlarged Bureau and I personally would also be delighted if you would lunch with us on that occasion.

Please accept, Prime Minister, the assurance of my highest consideration.

Yours sincerely

(u one Verl)

Mrs Margaret THATCHER
Prime Minister
