Background and purpose of the meeting

In February 2013 the European Commission presented the legislative proposals comprising together the Smart Borders Package. This package consists of two main elements: the proposal for an Entry/Exit System (COM(2013)95) which would record the time and place of entry and exit of third-country nationals crossing the external borders, calculate the duration of their stay as well as generate an alert when authorised periods for stay have expired and the proposal for a Registered Traveller Programme (COM(2013)97) which would allow certain groups of frequent travellers (i.e. business travellers, family members etc.) from third countries to enter the Union, subject to appropriate prescreening, using simplified border checks including at automated gates. The two proposals are complemented by a third one amending the Schengen Borders Code "as regards the use of the Entry/Exit System (EES) and the Registered Traveller Programme (RTP)" at the border (COM(2013)96).

The Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs (LIBE Committee) has been discussing these proposals since then and during the last legislative term identified a number of serious concerns in the proposals presented. These concerns and concerns expressed by Member States in the Council as well as by the Commission led to a further technical study. This study was presented in the LIBE Committee on 16 October 2014 by the Commission. On 3 December Commissioner Avramopoulos announced to the Committee that the proposals of 2013 would be withdrawn and replaced by new proposals at the end of 2015 or the beginning of 2016. During 2015 a number of practical tests will be conducted at different borders in order to test certain options in real-life situations.

The meeting is intended to serve as a forum for an exchange of views and information among national and European parliamentarians. The input of national parliaments is sought not only in general terms but also against the background of very diverging national situations (as regards their geographical location, the types of borders, the travel flows etc.) and experiences (as regards, for example, the use of national entry/exit systems or types of registered traveller programmes).

Possible topics during this session could include:

How is the situation at the border today? What are the problems the proposals aim to address? To what degree vary the problems at the different borders? What are possible solutions? What can the existing systems (SIS II, VIS, Eurodac) achieve and what not? Are an EES and a RTP necessary and proportionate?

Moderator:	Iliana IOTOVA , Vice-Chair of the Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs of the European Parliament
Speakers:
15.10 - 15.40	Tanja FAJON, Rapporteur, Registered Traveller Programme (RTP) Agustín DIAZ DE MERA GARCIA CONSUEGRA, Rapporteur, Entry/Exit System (EES)

17.10 - 18.30 SESSION II: Smart borders' proof of concept exercise

Following the concerns raised by Parliament and Council about the 2013 legislative proposals the Commission launched a proof of concept exercise aimed at identifying options for implementing the Smart Borders package. This exercise consists of two stages:

- 1. A Commission-led Technical Study aimed at identifying and assessing the most suitable and promising options and solutions.
- 2. Testing entrusted to the Agency for the Operational Management of large-scale IT Systems in the area of Freedom, Security and Justice (eu-LISA), aimed at verifying the feasibility of the options identified in the Technical Study and validating the selected concepts for both automated and manual border controls.

The session is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the state of play of the "proof of concept" and allow for an exchange of views on it.

Order of business Tuesday, 24 February 2015

09.00 - 10.30	SESSION III: Characteristics of and challenges for different types of borders

The current situation and future challenges are very diverse across the EU Member States and at the different external border crossing points. Numbers of travellers, nationalities, means of transport, climate conditions etc. vary greatly. The impact that new systems would have on the border therefore also differ.

The session is intended to get a first-hand view of border guard services working at different borders. Members of national parliaments could add from their national experiences in the following debate.

Moderator:	Kinga GÁL , Vice-Chair of the Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs of the European Parliament
Speakers:
09.00 - 09.10	Vesa BLOMQVIST, Lieutenant Colonel, Head of Unit, Finnish Border Guard-Land Borders

09.30 - 10.30	Questions and answers / debate
10.30 - 12.00	SESSION IV: Law enforcement access

A use for law enforcement purposes was not proposed by the Commission. The Commission proposed, however, that the first evaluation of the system two years after the start of operation would "specifically examine the contribution the [EES] could make in the fight against terrorist offences and other serious criminal offences and will deal with the issue of access for law enforcement [...]". (Art. 46(5)) Member States, however, seem to favour such an access from the start. This session aims to discuss the idea of law enforcement access in all aspects.
