THE EUROPEAN YOUTH EVENT

Dear EYE participants,

Welcome to the heart of European democracy! I am very happy that you want to be present to discuss and develop your ideas at the European Youth Event - EYE.

Today, we are in urgent need for new ideas for Europe. The European Union faces bigger challenges than ever: the refugee crisis, increasing nationalism, the economic and monetary union that still needs to be finished, a possible exit of the UK from the EU or the danger from terrorism are only some of the most pressing problems.

It would be dangerous to think that there are no alternatives to the EU. There is one. It is a Europe of Nationalisms, of borders and walls, a Europe of antagonism and egoism. A Europe of less prosperity, less security, less freedom and less cooperation. And by now we have come dangerously close to this alternative, as for the first time in history the failure of this grand idea and incomparable success story is unfortunately a realistic scenario.

Everyone who puts our common project at stake puts at stake the future of coming generations. It is especially thanks to young and active people like you that I believe in the future of Europe. With your contribution to a vibrant European democracy, you will make the difference in the future. This leaves me optimistic regarding the huge tasks in front of us.

So thank you very much for your interest in European politics and the European Parliament - an exciting, multilingual and unique political institution. And the European Youth Event will be as international and multilingual. I wish to all of you have fun, hold interesting discussions, and deliver many good ideas and enjoy your experience here in Strasbourg.

Mr Martin Schulz,
President of the European Parliament

Dear participants,

Thank you for accepting the European Parliament's invitation to participate in the second edition of the European Youth Event (EYE).

The EYE 2016 brings together young people from the 28 EU Member States and beyond in the European Parliament. It will be a unique opportunity for you to engage in workshops, debates and many activities with your peers and with decision-makers. We want to listen to YOU! Your ideas will serve as a source of inspiration for Members of the European Parliament and will be discussed in several parliamentary committees in the autumn.

The EYE 2016 aims to:

- give you the opportunity to present and discuss ideas on how to make a change in Europe with fellow participants and with European decision-makers;
- encourage discussion and debate on hot topics and future European policies;
- give you an opportunity to stage cultural performances and showcase cultural diversity in Europe.

On behalf of the European Parliament, we would like to thank our EYE partners and all youth groups contributing to the event.

You are all invited to get involved in the many indoor and outdoor activities during the EYE 2016.

We are looking forward to meeting you in Strasbourg.

Ms Mairead McGuinness and Ms Sylvie Guillaume,
Vice-Presidents of the European Parliament

Dear Young Europeans,

I am very happy to welcome you to the seat of the European Parliament. Based on the success of the first edition of the EYE2014, the President and Vice-Presidents decided to invite all of you to a second edition on 20 to 21 May 2016, for an exciting weekend of ideas, debate and encounters.

The European Parliament organises the event with the help of 11 partners, notably the European Youth Forum, to help ensure that the EYE is not only an event for young people, but also organised with young people.

The EYE is a unique event. It brings together young people from all backgrounds and from right across the European Union. Politicians, scientists, artists, entrepreneurs, academics and other experts have come here to listen to your ideas and join in your discussions.

The EYE 2016 will include a large variety of activities, focussing on five main themes:

- War and Peace: Perspectives for a Peaceful Planet
- Apathy or Participation: Agenda for a Vibrant Democracy
- Exclusion or Access: Crackdown on Youth Unemployment
- Stagnation or Innovation: Tomorrow's World of Work
- Collapse or Success: New Ways for a Sustainable Europe

The EYE motto is "Together we can make a change": the future of the EU belongs to you, the young generation. This weekend you have the opportunity to contribute to shaping it. I wish you all a successful and enjoyable weekend!

Mr Klaus Welle,
Secretary-General of the European Parliament

Evening programme

EYE in the city: Mix Art - Mix Europe

During this year's European Youth Event, the city of Strasbourg has the pleasure of inviting you to an exceptional evening, in the heart of the city. This event will feature the famous graffiti artist "Seen" from New York and is comprised of around fifteen European graffiti artists and musicians. By bringing together graphical and musical experience from all genres, this tailor made concert will offer you a unique experience at the EYE2016.

Open air concert and street art

Organised by the City of Strasbourg, in cooperation with the associations Ariana and Passages

Code: live

YO!Fest at the EYE:

Live music for youth opinion

The YO!Fest does not end as the sun goes down! Join thousands of EYE participants as well as hundreds of local young people for a spectacular open-air concert featuring Balkan Beat Box. The politically engaged band – qualified by music critics as "a global peace-keeping mission you can dance to" – will make you groove until the late hours to their Mediterranean-inflected electronica sound.

Run in partnership between the European Youth Forum and Jeunesses Musicales International (JMI), the Emerging Bands Contest is a unique opportunity for young European bands to showcase their talent and kick start a professional musical career. The winners will open the concert and set the tone for a festive closing celebration.

Open-air concert

Organised by the European Youth Forum

Day, Time: Friday, 20:00-22:00

Venue: Place du Chateau, Strasbourg
(open to all participants without booking)

Day, Time: Saturday, 19:30-00:00

Venue: Tivoli parking (5 minute walking distance from the European Parliament)
(open to all participants without booking)

The YO!Fest at the EYE

Day, Time: Friday, 10:30-18:30
Saturday, 10:00-19:30

(open to all participants without booking)

The programme will not stop at the doors of the European Parliament! The European Youth Forum will bring its YO!Fest ("Youth Opinion" Festival) to the EYE, unleashing young people's expression and creativity by combining politics, culture, education and fun in a multicultural festival atmosphere.

The YO!Fest is a vibrant and inter-active space for young people to meet, discuss and create with each other and with EU decision-makers. Co-created for young people by young people, it will include:

- Political debates and interactive workshops
- Live music, theatre, dance and circus performances
- Games and educational activities

The YO!Village, located just in front of the European Parliament, will be a space to learn, share and interact. It will be built around five thematic hubs on the main EYE themes. Each hub will cluster youth and civil society organisations, working together to offer an exciting and innovative programme.

Make sure you save some time for activities in the YO!Village during the EYE! There will be plenty to join on the spot, with no pre-registration necessary. This is just a glimpse of the many other surprises waiting for you in the YO!Village:

- Join a game or quiz, test your knowledge on youth rights and learn how to protect them
- Take part in the "Sustainable Development Goals treasure hunt" and win eco-friendly prizes
- Pass by the chill-out area dedicated to health and well-being
- Borrow a human "book" in the Living Library and challenge yourself to better understand groups facing discrimination
- Catch a documentary screening and debate the issues provoked in the film
- Enjoy one of the open-air circus, dance or theatre performances
- Hang out in the cosy coffee area and grab a cup of fair trade coffee or local juice made of "wonky apples" to avoid food waste

Key activity formats

The EYE will offer a large variety of activities that need to be booked in advance. These will be carried out in the following formats:

- Debate:* Address an issue in a polarised way and challenge the participants with clear pros and cons.
- Digital Games:* Participants will play digital games related to the EYE themes. Gaming will be followed by a discussion on the specific topic.
- Discussion:* Deal with complex subjects and shed light on many viewpoints and angles rather than just two opposing positions regarding a topic.
- Hearing:* Experts or young stakeholders affected by the subject of the activity present their cases or arguments from different angles (3-5 min), and then discuss with participants.
- Ideas check:* In this new quick-fire format, devised especially for the EYE event, young people will bounce their ideas and proposals off political leaders, who will have two minutes to respond.
- Ideas Lab:* What could or should be changed in today's world? Participants take the role of young advisors of Members of the European Parliament responsible for a new legislation. Young Europeans decide both on the agenda for discussion and their concrete proposals for change, before (online) and during the EYE.
- Question time:* Top-level speakers take and answer participants' questions on their positions, actions and ideas.
- Talk:* In a more informal ambience, here the focus lies more on personal stories, views, experiences and ideas than on official policies and statements.
- Workshops:* Interactive, more hands-on or specialised activities in smaller groups.

Activity codes

The codes you will find in front of every activity title are easy to "decode" once you know what the different code elements stand for:

The first two letters indicate under which of the five main themes the activity runs:

- WP for War and Peace
- AP for Apathy or Participation
- YU for Youth Unemployment
- TW for Tomorrow World of Work
- SU for Sustainability

The third letter indicates the booking category of the activity:

- P for Panel in the Plenary chamber (Hemicycle) of which each participant can only book one
- A for the Activities of which each participant can book two
- C for Culture, arts and more

I. War and Peace: Perspectives for a peaceful planet

"Mama, life had just begun. But now I've gone and thrown it all away".

Freddy Mercury (Bohemian Rhapsody)

Code: WPPmigration

Migration: Across the Universe

Millions of refugees and migrants come to Europe in search of a safe haven and a better life. Keep them out or take them in? What should the spirit and the major components of a new European migration and asylum policy be? Legal aliens or new citizens: how can host societies improve the integration of new citizens? How is migration changing Europe?

Idea check

Code: WPApeace

Europe – a global player for peace?

Are we Europeans stuck down in our own problems or should we assume a greater responsibility worldwide? How can the European Union speak with one voice, take common action and reach out to people in need or danger? Should we envisage more forceful or more humanitarian engagement – more guns or roses for the world?

Question time

Code: WPAbooks

Holy books, horrific bloodshed?

Messages of love and hate in the name of God: what is the role of religion in our open society? Should state and religion be strictly separated in all European countries? Can it ever justify violence or does it contribute to tolerance and respect for human rights? How can young people help to build understanding and a sense of community between people of different faiths and origins?

Debate

Day, Time: Saturday, 16:00-18:00

Venue: Hemicycle, 900 places

Code: WPAcyber

Cyberattacks: Visible danger, invisible enemy

Cyber-attacks are a new and growing danger to states, companies and citizens. How can Europe fight cyber criminals and terrorists? Can democratic control keep pace with technological innovation?

Discussion

Code: WPAdestination

Destination "Holy war" – roundtrip

An alarming number of young Europeans – boys and girls – are leaving their families, having been lured by messages glorifying jihad and the creation of a new Islamic state. What can be done to break this fatal attraction? Why is the Internet a focal point for recruitment? How can we prevent Europeans from joining extremists abroad and from returning eager to stage attacks back home? How can we give young people of different origins a sense of belonging, perspective and value as citizens of Europe?

Hearing

Code: WPArussia

Relations EU-Russia: Breaking bad...

...or keeping the door open for peace? Living next door to Russia and Ukraine: what does it take for EU countries to be good neighbours in bad times? What is the situation and perspective of young people caught up in this conflict? The EU between tough response and soft power.

Discussion

Code: WPPheroes

Human rights: Heroes of our time

The European Parliament awards each year the Shkarov Prize for Freedom of Thought to courageous people who fight for human rights across the globe. Shkarov Prize winners tell their stories and share their experiences.

Code: WPAransom

Kidnap and ransom

Kidnapping is a brutal way of fundraising for criminals and terrorists. Victims include growing numbers of women and children. Should European states negotiate with kidnappers? Should governments refuse to pay ransom?

Debate

Code: WPAafraid

We are not afraid!

Kalashnikovs vs democracy: what is Europe's answer to terrorist attacks and organised crime? How do we shape democratic life in the space between courage and caution, freedom and security in Europe?

Examples:

- Free movement across the continent or a return to border controls and security checks?
- More surveillance to tackle terror or strict respect of private communication?
- New ways of protecting the lives and human rights of people inside and outside of Europe?

Code: WPA balance

Peace in Europe – an unstable balance?

Can European mobility programmes help in the prevention of radicalisation of young people? Can they foster the development of a critical debate within society? Which lessons are to be learned from previous wars? How can peace education and active remembrance work be used in youth encounters?

In this workshop we will assess the peace prospects of the EU rather than taking it for granted. We want to discuss how European mobility programmes can be used to spread the peace values and thus foster equality, solidarity and the constructive dialogue between different groups of society. Intercultural learning, the deconstruction of prejudices and the prevention of tendencies of radicalisation can help fighting against discrimination and exclusion - and thus for peace in Europe.

Digital citizens: Connecting people to power

How can online participation change laws in Europe? Is politics changing, are we seeing grassroots movements taking over? How can civil society organisations, citizens' initiatives and petitions be linked to the Members of the European Parliament? Are new forms of direct democracy using online referenda the way forward? Can online voting boost voter turnout among young people? Social media – a platform for free speech or a tool for spying?

Discussion

Code: APApool

Fun in the pool or riding the wave?

The European Union is a model in which countries pool power and connect people. Should we dive deeper into this pool striving for an ever closer union? Or rather should we ride the nationalist wave, standing up for the interests of our own country? Is a closer union costing European citizens money, or can the pooling of resources save money for citizens? European integration – running out of puff or ready for the "next big thing"?

"Cowspiracy": The Sustainability Secret

Ciné ONU: The eye-opening documentary reveals the devastating environmental impact large-scale factory farming has on our planet and investigates why the world's leading environmental organisation are too afraid to talk about it. Is animal farming the leading cause of deforestation, water consumption and pollution? Can we save the planet by changing our eating habits and moving to a meat-free diet?

No kids please, we are Europeans

Striving for environmental sustainability has become one of the key focuses of present leaders. The EU has put itself at the forefront of eco-friendliness. However, the demographic trends in certain EU countries threaten the sustainability of society as such. In this interactive workshop, participants will investigate how the concept of sustainability can be extended to population structures.

Europe 2030: Megatrends shaping our future

No one knows what the future holds, but we can at least try to predict it. Whether Europe will turn into a land of our dreams or a place of a nightmare depends on many factors. Using driving forces in society, four potential scenarios will be developed that show how Europe may look like in 2030. We will analyse past, present and future trends and try to determine how they might shape our societies, policies and borders. How can we stimulate positive developments and how can we correct negative trends?

International Federation of Medical Students Associations | West Sussex Youth Cabinet | ACTIVE – Sobriety, Friendship and Peace | ENGSO Youth

What to expect in the hub?

The health and well-being of young people is a topic often overlooked. Come to the well-being zone, chill out, focus on taking care of yourself and others! Explore a range of issues from basic life support to mental health and the importance of exercise. Challenge yourself to improve your diet and raise awareness of gender-based violence.

- Challenge the taboo: develop skills for maintaining good mental health,
- Make your pledge to stop violence against women,
- Question young people's relationship to alcohol and stand up for responsible alcohol consumption,
- Take a breather in the chill-out area and chat informally about well-being,
- Try out sports activities and consider the role of sport in healthy lifestyles.

Theatre plays

War, what if it were here?

Based on the novel "War, what if it were here?" by Janne Teller, this play is fiction twisting reality: imagine a world in which the European states are at war, while there is peace in the Arab world. European everyday life is dominated by hunger, coldness, serious housing shortage and fear of bomb strikes. The democratic system failed and fascist dictators have seized power in the government. This crisis situation is carefully examined from the point of view of different protagonists.

Performed by Kreisgymnasium St. Ursula (Gruppe: "Ausdruck macht Eindruck") (Germany)

Hello, it's me

This play raises questions on how young people can define their role in today's ever-changing masses. Where do you stand in the world? How can you meet others, not to be left alone? Can you – and do you wish – to actively respond to societal challenges, or should you turn a blind eye to them? How can you take off the labels that society has assigned you?

Performed by Les Théatreux de Pécs (Hungary)

Code: Cexpress

Express yourself: Music, dance and theatre

"European Wonderland": We don't care, we care

This theatre play is inspired by the famous story Alice in Wonderland. Instead of focusing on Alice, this play will show the story of the European "Wonderland" and addresses ideas about apathy, aggression, fear and participation.

Creative workshops and interactive performances

A journey to tolerance: Words don't come easy

This workshop takes you on a journey to explore cultural diversity using body language. It aims to break down gender, cultural and social stereotypes through self-reflection, dialogue, theatre and performance. During this journey, you will learn active tolerance skills needed to live in a multicultural society in which conflicts between communities might be unavoidable.

Organised by Rooftop Theatre Group (Cyprus)

"Theatre of the oppressed": a vibrant voice for victims

"Theatre of the oppressed" shows people that it is possible to actively influence social and political developments. In this play, we perform situations of bullying and involve spectators to give their contribution to the performance. By doing this, "Theatre of the oppressed" makes participants understand what it means to be both a bully and a victim of bullying.

Steps into the world of jobs

This Hungarian dance and music performance shows the story of young people who start a career in Hungary and elsewhere in the EU. The characters represent different professions; they have just received their certificates and seeking for a career with equal chances. The performance focuses on the obstacles these young people have to face and the different opportunities they receive in the world of jobs.

A special job: Raising children

This Maltese and English song, accompanied by a video, will illustrate the social impact on families in which the unemployed mother is responsible for the up-bringing of the children. These mothers have to sacrifice their careers to devote their un-paid work to the family. The song conveys a message about family values: although young mothers don't have a job with an income, they contribute to society by raising children and giving them all the support and motherly love that is of most importance to those children.

Performed by MCAST Institute for the Creative Arts (Malta)

You are everything

This performance will be similar to the performances of Bobby McFerrin. A choir will sing popular songs about peace, such as Michael Jackson's song "Black or White" and the audience will be invited to sing along specific verses of the songs.

Performed by Songpower (Latvia)

Europe: Rhythm of change

In this performance, the audience will be introduced to the culture of brass music. Wind instruments such as trumpets, horns and trombones will be used to perform a variety of music pieces. The music has a European character and resembles pieces from baroque times, the romantic period and contemporary music.

Performed by Men in Blech (Austria)

EYE partners

European Youth Forum

The European Youth Forum is the platform of youth organisations in Europe. Independent, democratic, youth-led, it represents over 100 National Youth Councils and international youth organisations from across the continent. The European Youth Forum works to empower young people to participate actively in society to improve their own lives, by representing and advocating their needs and interests and those of their organisations towards the European Union, the Council of Europe and the United Nations.

The European Youth Forum is the main EYE partner.

The European Parliament teams up with the Youth Forum to make sure the EYE is organised not only for, but also by young people. The Youth Forum supports the Parliament EYE2016 team in preparing the event, mobilising youth organisations and reaching out to young people across Europe. The Youth Forum contributes to the overall EYE2016 programme by bringing YO!Fest, its annual political youth-led festival, to Strasbourg.

Mixing political debates, thematic workshops, educational activities with live music and artistic performances, YO!Fest will run its 7th edition for the second time in the context of the EYE.

City of Strasbourg

Strasbourg, seat of the European Parliament, but also of the Council of Europe and of the European Court for Human Rights, has a privileged place at the heart of Europe.

On the occasion of the European Youth Event, the City of Strasbourg offers a welcome to the EYE participants in the old city and supports the entire event.

Institute of Political Sciences (IEP) of Strasbourg

Created in 1945, the Institute of Political Sciences (IEP) of Strasbourg "Science Po Strasbourg" is a renowned public university which is part of the network of nine institutes of Political Sciences in France. The IEP selects graduates and students and leads them into civil servant and private sphere careers.

The IEP Strasbourg has mobilised its students to become volunteers to support the smooth flow of the EYE. It also organises a debate as part of the EYE panels.

European Youth Press

The European Youth Press (EYP) is an umbrella organisation of young journalists in Europe to which more than 60.000 journalists under the age of 30 are affiliated. The aim of the EYP and its member organisations is to inspire young people to become involved in the media and play an active part in civil society by fostering objective and independent journalism.

During the European Youth Media Days, 120 young journalists from across the EU Member States will be in charge of the daily multi-media coverage of the EYE 2016. The EYP's final report will be handed over to the Members of the European Parliament in September 2016.

European Federation of Professional Circus Schools (FEDEC)

European Federation of Professional Circus Schools (FEDEC) is a European and international network for professional circus arts education and training. Founded in 1998, the FEDEC gathers 55 members (schools, organisations, info centers, and employers) with a majority of schools – 41 schools and 14 circus arts organizations – located in 24 European countries and beyond. FEDEC's main vocation is to support the development and evolution of pedagogy, creation, innovation, mobility and employment in circus arts.

FEDEC circus schools are performing during the EYE and discussing their work with participants.

ARTE – The European Culture Channel

The public service television channel ARTE provides cultural programming for a better relation among Europeans. It was founded in 1991 by France and Germany to promote the understanding between the European nations. 165 million households in Europe can receive ARTE programs, 85% of the programs are produced in Europe. ARTE is financed by the TV license fee levied in Germany and France and is based in Strasbourg.

ARTE is the main EYE media partner. ARTE TV programme YOUROPE will be broadcasted from the EYE. ARTE organises workshops during the EYE as well as provides for moderators for EYE panels.

Games for Change Europe

Founded in 2013 Games for Change Europe promotes the creation and distribution of social impact games that serve as contemporary and sustainable tools in humanitarian and educational efforts and helps support and increase the growing interest in social impact games throughout Europe. The initiative consists of individuals from academia and industry who frequently showcase best practices to the European public and discuss the potential of the medium with companies, organizations and governments. Due to its free and diverse structure, Games for Change Europe offers access to leading expertise and technology to help leverage entertaining games with non-entertainment goals and transform them into a compelling and convincing communication tool.

Games for Change Europe is co-organising five digital games sessions and panels linked to the EYE themes as well as a competition amongst young game developers for this year's most compelling games for and about changing the face of Europe.

European Commission

The European Commission is the EU's executive body and represents the interests of Europe as a whole (as opposed to the interests of individual countries).

The Commission – namely the Directorate-General for Industry and Enterprise, the Directorate-General for Employment, the Directorate-General for Education and Culture and the Directorate-General for Humanitarian Aid – will contribute with a number of panel activities and workshops to the programme of the event.

European Space Agency (ESA)

The European Space Agency (ESA) is Europe's gateway to space. Its mission is to shape the development of Europe's space capability and ensure that investment in space continues to deliver benefits to the citizens of Europe and the world. Its job is to draw up the European space programme and carry it through. ESA is one of the few space agencies in the world to combine responsibility in nearly all areas of space activity: from the study of Earth and its immediate space environment, to our Solar System and the Universe, to human spaceflight, robotic exploration and launchers, as well as satellite-based technologies and services. ESA is an international organisation with 22 Member States. By coordinating the financial and intellectual resources of its members, it can undertake programmes and activities far beyond the scope of any single European country.

ESA is co-organising panels, providing speakers and organising workshops during the EYE.

Council of Europe

The Council of Europe is an international organisation promoting co-operation between all countries of Europe in the areas of legal standards, human rights, democratic development, the rule of law and cultural co-operation. The Council of Europe will contribute to the programme of the EYE with activities organised by its Youth Centre.

Foundation of the International Charlemagne Prize of Aachen / European Charlemagne Youth Prize

Alongside with the "Charlemagne Prize Discussion" and "Charlemagne Prize Forum on Europe", the Foundation of the International Charlemagne Prize of Aachen together with the European Parliament organises the "The European Charlemagne Youth Prize". The prize aims to encourage the development of European consciousness among young people, as well as their participation in European integration projects. It is awarded to projects undertaken by young people which foster understanding, promote the development of a shared sense of European identity, and offer practical examples of Europeans living together as one community. The European Charlemagne Youth Prize is awarded jointly and annually by the European Parliament and the Foundation of the International Charlemagne Prize of Aachen. The Charlemagne Youth Prize will organise a workshop related to the Twitter project @RealTime WW1.
